DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's arguments, see Remark, filed 8/10/05, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-4 under USC 102(e) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Kada et al., US Patent 6687321.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kada et al., US Patent 6687321.

Kada et al. discloses in Figure1 a voltage control oscillating apparatus capable of adjusting a frequency of an output oscillating signal of the voltage control oscillating apparatus, comprising: a plurality of serial-coupled voltage control delay lines (IV0-IVn+1) for outputting a plurality of oscillating signals (0 - n+1) respectively according to a voltage control signal (20), each of the oscillating signals is corresponding to an oscillating frequency (intrinsic ring oscillator functionality); a multiplexer (10) coupled to the VCDL (IV0-IVn+1) for selecting one of the oscillating signals to be the output oscillating signal according to a control signal (20); a frequency detector (23) coupled to the multiplexer (10) for outputting a detecting signal (output of 23) according to the output oscillating signal (Ring Oscillator Output); and a controller (24) coupled to the frequency detector (23) for outputting the control signal (20) to the multiplexer (10) according to the detecting signal (output of 23).

Regarding Claim 2, Kada et al discloses that the voltage control delay lines (IV0-IV_{n+1}) includes a control terminal (necessarily present from 20 to 13) for receiving the voltage control signal (output of 20), an input terminal coupled to the previous voltage control delay line, and an output terminal coupled to the next voltage control delay line (see ring configuration) and the multiplexer (10) for outputting the corresponding oscillating signal (selection 0-n).

Regarding Claims 3-4, these method claims are the same in scope as apparatus claims 1 and 2, which would necessarily perform the method claimed and therefore, the claims are rejected.
